Jeff, “Fireball” Kelly is a hardworking executive in a prominent company. He is a reliable worker that the company can rely on except for one thing. He earned his moniker because he loves to fire his subordinates and employees. Now the company is giving him an all-expense paid vacation to the Golden Isles with his wife Nicole, as a reward for all the great work and service he has put in. Unfortunately for Jeff, this vacation will become deadly and he and Nicole will be sucked into the “Resort of Death.”
