The people of Macon Valley whisper of their deviant ways--the fact they like kink and enjoy sharing women. But the town doesn't understand that they're looking for that one perfect woman to fill the void in their hearts. They know that they'll be sharing her both in and out of the bedroom and they're fine with that. Trouble is the woman they've selected isn't so sure she's ready for both of them. Can they win her heart as easy as they do her body? *short, hot, sizzling read
