Rylie: We're not friends anymore.

Those words sliced her life in half. Four years ago, she found herself heartbroken and desperately trying to understand why her best friend walked out of her life. Now he's back, stirring up the painful memories she thought she had beaten and buried. But as much as she's missed him, he's asking for the one thing she's not sure she can give him: her trust. * ~ * ~ * Joss: She was his rock, his safe haven, the one person he could always count on. And he let family issues and a moment of selfish anger push her out of his life. It's been four years, and he needs her now more than ever. He wants to make amends, but he didn't realize her bitterness would still be so strong. Forgiveness does not come easily – he should understand that better than anyone.
