The thrilling conclusion to the riveting Curses Series, Kai is a whirlwind from start to finish. The bittersweet end leaves us all thirsting for more! Fortunately, the End is only the Beginning... Divine warrior, Kai lived each day tortured by the sins of his past. Redemption, the unattainable notion, never even crossed his mind. The last thing he thought he would ever find was a true, destined mate. From the first moment he saw her, he couldn't deny the fact she belonged to him. Despite all his sins, and unpaid penance, he would take her.

Nothing would stop him from making her his, not even the years she spent running from him. Little did he know keeping her would prove more of a sacrifice than he had bargained for.

Hope lived with a terrible curse. She alone knew why girls like her existed, and no matter how much the others succumbed, she would never allow herself to be claimed. Cursed to mate the vilest creatures created, she chose to run, fight, hide— whatever it took. Knowing rest could lead to capture, she refused to give in, no matter how tempting her pursuer appeared. How can she escape when her every thought is of surrender? And he knows it all so well.
