This is an alternate-cover edition for ISBN 9780991653409. When time began, there was Light and there was Darkness. As time continued, each of these forces grew in strength. It is not surprising that a weapon was created to push back the Darkness, nor is it surprising that Dark entities craved the weapon for themselves. Many millennia have passed since the last battle for the weapon, and it remains in pieces--divided between the Dioniks, the Merpeople, the Entosh, and the Dragons. Wielding psychic powers and a mysterious new form of energy, three friends set out to accomplish what four warring races could not. They scour Earth's hidden realms, searching for the weapon that could bring Earth out of the Darkness.
