In 2014 I began to change my life. I started working towards becoming a minimalist and haven't looked back. I want you to become a minimalist too because I want all the wonderful things that have happened to me, to happen to you too! I want others to take this journey too as I always hear people saying they wish they had more time to travel or more money and sit next to a stack of 100 or more dvds, 2 tvs, a laptop, a tablet, a bunch of toys etc, that could be a nice little start to an awesome vacation. Don't be that person.

Now is the time to declutter your home, gain your time back, make more money, travel and have more fun. Get ready to start your permanent vacation!
